What is the Care Pavilion?

The Technical Secretariat of the Global Alliance for Care (GAC) is promoting this initiative to raise awareness, position, and promote the global care agenda in key multilateral advocacy spaces. This action responds to the Alliance's strategic mandate for the period 2025-2030, in particular Strategic Priority 1: Multilateral Advocacy on Care, and the priority actions associated with its implementation.

The care agenda is fundamental to advancing gender equality, social well-being, and sustainable development, yet it remains largely invisible and undervalued.

Given this reality, the Care Pavilion is conceived as a visible, transformative, open, and multi-stakeholder space where member organizations of the Alliance, along with strategic allies, can reaffirm their collective commitment to strengthening and transforming care systems globally.

The fifth edition of the Care Pavilion will take place in Antalya, Türkiye, in the framework of the 31st United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP31). This edition is co-organised with the Mother Child Education Foundation (AÇEV), an Alliance member organization and a strategic regional actor that has advanced the care agenda on childcare for more than 30 years. It builds on the Alliance's recognition of the intersection between care and climate change as a strategic priority, and its commitment to bringing it into key multilateral advocacy spaces.

Located at the Konyaaltı Municipality Service Building (Kuşkavağı Neighborhood, Belediye Avenue No. 77, 07070 Konyaaltı/Antalya, Türkiye), the Pavilion is open to the public from 13 to 15 November 2026.

Acknowledgements

The Global Alliance for Care and the Mother Child Education Foundation (AÇEV) express their deep appreciation to Konyaaltı Municipality for its essential support in making this initiative possible.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION

"Caring Is Living: Women Who Sustain the World"

Produced by: Gregoria Apaza Women's Promotion Center.*

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 · Exhibition Hall

A photographic exhibition portraying the everyday experiences of women in the urban and rural communities of Bolivia's La Paz highlands. Through images of women raising children, cultivating the land, preserving ancestral knowledge, organizing their communities and supporting one another, the exhibition makes visible the often-unrecognized care work that sustains life. Produced by the Gregoria Apaza Women's Promotion Center, it celebrates the experiences, knowledge and leadership of women while highlighting care as a right, a form of work and a shared social responsibility. The exhibition invites us to recognize care as essential to social justice and to reflect on the need to value and collectively sustain it.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION

"Care Is Also Territory"

Produced by: Autonomous Group for Environmental Research A.C. (GAIA).

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 · Exhibition Hall

A photographic series exploring the relationship between care, women's knowledge, and the land in territories already experiencing the effects of climate change. Through the everyday practices of women who cultivate the milpa, the exhibition highlights their knowledge and skills in reading the soil, preserving native seeds, diversifying crops, conserving resources, and sustaining agricultural biodiversity. These practices carry memory, learning, and collective resilience, helping sustain food, livelihoods, and the conditions that make life possible in their territories. The series invites us to recognize care for the land as essential work and as a source of knowledge, adaptation, and the possibility of a future.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION

"Faces that Care: Threads from the South"

Produced by: Climate & Care Initiative.*

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

An interactive exhibition bringing together photographs and stories from Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean to explore the deep connections between care and climate action. It highlights how communities across the Global South sustain people, ecosystems and territories in the face of the climate crisis, while showing how care is both affected by climate change and essential to preparing, adapting, responding and recovering. Through interactive elements and QR codes, visitors are invited to discover the projects and organizations behind each story, connect with their work, and explore the knowledge and evidence emerging from their communities. The initiative is led by the Climate and Care: Knowledge for Action Collective, facilitated by Fundación Avina with the support of Canada's International Development Research Centre (IDRC), and invites us to recognize care as critical climate infrastructure.

"Women Who Care for the World"

Produced by: International Domestic Workers Federation (IDWF).*

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

A photographic exhibition featuring images captured by the International Domestic Workers Federation (IDWF) in Nepal, the Dominican Republic and South Africa. Through the stories of ten domestic workers, it makes visible the essential contribution of paid care work to sustaining homes, families and communities, while highlighting the persistent lack of recognition and labor protections faced by those who perform it. The exhibition invites visitors to reflect on the contradiction between the vital role domestic workers play in society and the undervaluation of their work, calling for their rights, dignity and contributions to be recognized and valued. It is a call to build caring societies grounded in gender equality and social justice, where care workers are treated with dignity and everyone can exercise their right to care.

ARTISTIC EXHIBITION

"Anthropocene"

Produced by: Uçan Süpürge Kadın İletişim ve Araştırma Derneği (Flying Broom Women´s Communication and Research Association.)

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

Anthropocene, an exhibition by multidisciplinary artist Bestami Eği, is created entirely from waste and found materials, using natural pigments and techniques drawn from nature. Through these works, the artist draws attention to the climate crisis, the destruction of nature, and the ways in which all living and non-living beings on the planet are affected by the biodiversity crisis, while also addressing human rights and gender equality from an ecological perspective. The special selection prepared for COP31 comprises 30 works. Previously shown in Diyarbakır and Ankara, this third edition of Anthropocene also features new works on display for the first time.

ARTISTIC EXHIBITION

"Children Draw the Future! Nature, Climate and a Sustainable Future Through Children's Eyes"

Produced by: Türkiye Eğitim Gönüllüleri Vakfı (Education Volunteers Foundation of Türkiye – TEGV)

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

Addressed to COP31 participants, decision-makers, educators, young people, families and all environmentally conscious visitors, the exhibition aims to inspire a more livable and sustainable future through the voices of children.

EXHIBITION

"The Invisible Infrastructure of Climate Resilience: Climate, Mobility and Care"

Produced by: SGDD-ASAM (Association for Solidarity with Asylum Seekers and Migrants)

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

When services stop, care does not. This installation makes visible the unpaid care work that floods, water and power cuts, heat and cold episodes, drought, storms and poor air quality shift onto displaced households, and onto frontline public personnel who become de facto caregivers during first response.

"States of Care in Girls' Lives"

Produced by: Eşitlik İçin Dayanışma Derneği (Association for Solidarity for Equality), member of the Suna'nın Kızları (Suna's Daughters) Community.

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

We created this exhibition by compiling the outputs of needs analyses and Photovoice workshops carried out with girls aged 12–17 in four different cities where Suna'nın Kızları (Suna's Daughters) works. In preparing it, we started from the fact that children and adults need to build mutual bonds, and to receive and give care, at every stage of their lives. We aimed to make visible, in girls' own words, how they experience these mutual bonds, even while carrying the burden of care. With this collection, we invite everyone to reflect on and discuss how mutual bonds built on respect, trust and support relate to children's healthy development and their access to their rights.

"Moments of Fatherhood"

Produced by: AÇEV (Mother Child Education Foundation)

On display throughout all days of the Pavilion, 13–15 November 2026 Exhibition Hall

As part of its "Fatherhood First" campaign launched in 2017, AÇEV organized the Moments of Fatherhood exhibition in 2022. The exhibition was inspired by Swedish Dads, a project by Swedish photographer Johan Bävman that portrays fathers spending time with their children during parental leave and has been exhibited in many countries. Moments of Fatherhood features scenes of fatherhood captured by Turkish photographers Ahmet Görsev and Zeynep Sezerman. Through the exhibition, AÇEV offers a glimpse into the everyday lives of involved fathers and their children, and invites everyone to rethink prevailing roles of fatherhood and masculinity.
